Hope Dies Last!

When Jesus was crucified, the disciples' hopes of a future kingdom died with him. Was that it? Had he misled the disciples? Was Jesus an imposter?

The disciples on the road to Emmaus might have felt that way.

With their words "but we had hoped" (Lk 24:21) they sealed the end of their hope. Their hope had died!

What was the reason for their hopelessness? – Unbelief!

They had a hard time believing that Jesus had already risen at that point. It was only when he revealed himself that their hope was reactivated and new strength, courage, and vision were released.

Many people feel the same way these days.

Current world events are killing hope. Only those who believe in the resurrection and the risen Lord can still hope!

We are spreading this message of hope – the gospel.

Thank you for your support.

On behalf of Global Evangelistic Network, I wish you a blessed and hope-filled Resurrection Day!
